Let us be glad and rejoice, and give honour to him: for the marriage of the Lamb is come, and his wife hath made herself ready.

Happy Anniversary

*Shammal & Keisha Jordan> March 3, 3yrs
The life of Christ was humble, free from affectation or display. He lived mostly in the open air. . . . The birds, the natural flowers that decked the fields with their glowing beauty, the majestic trees and lofty mountains, the ragged rocks and perpetual hills, all had special charms for Him. . . . Secluded from every human eye, He communed with His heavenly Father. His moral powers were strengthened by His meditation and communion with God. {FLB 263}
It is the precious privilege of . . . parents to cooperate in teaching the children how to drink in the gladness of Christ's life by learning to follow His example.*

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

In both the Old and the New Testament, the marriage relation is employed to represent the tender and sacred union that exists between Christ and His people. To the mind of Jesus the gladness of the wedding festivities pointed forward to the rejoicing of that day when He shall bring home His bride to the Father's house, and the redeemed with the Redeemer shall sit down to the marriage supper of the Lamb. He says, As the bridegroom rejoiceth over the bride, so shall thy God rejoice over thee. 'Thou shalt no more be termed Forsaken; . . . but thou shalt be called My Delight; . . . for the Lord delighteth in thee. 'He will rejoice over thee with joy; He will rest in His love, He will joy over thee with singing. 'Isaiah 62:5, 4, margin; Zephaniah 3:17. When the vision of heavenly things was granted to John...he wrote: I heard as it were the voice of a great multitude, and as the voice of many waters, and as the voice of mighty thunders, saying, Alleluia: for the Lord God omnipotent reigneth. Let us be glad and rejoice, and give honor to Him: for the marriage of the Lamb is come, and His wife hath made herself ready. 'T9:6, 7, 9. {DA 151.1}
